Volunteers generally work two hour shifts during the festivals. Volunteer duties may include serving samples, selling product, distributing advertising, answering questions, supervising children in free activities, taking tickets for carnival rides, busing tables, running errands between bandstands, helping with setting up tables and tents, taking down tables and tents and taking surveys from festival guests.

Each volunteer receives a souvenir festival t-shirt. Morning shift volunteers receive vouchers for coffee or tea, and those who work more than one shift receive a voucher for a meal from one of the festival food vendors.
